LOS MANANTIALES

Guatemala • Jutiapa

ABOUT THIS COFFEE

Los Manantiales coffee is a Red Geisha grown in the mountains of Jutiapa, in the New Oriente region of south-eastern Guatemala. The plots from which this lot originates are located between 1,730 and 2,000 metres above sea level, within a mountainous and forested environment.

This coffee comes from Los Manantiales farm, founded in 1997 and now managed by Ronald Pivaral. The estate is located in the Valencia / Los Manantiales mountain range and is distinguished by a dense natural shade canopy, notably made up of pine, cypress, cedar, avocado and walnut trees, which supports the development of the coffee trees and structures the local ecosystem.

This M6 lot, composed exclusively of Red Geisha, is processed using the honey process, then dried on patios and raised beds, respecting the natural rhythm of the cherries.

Farm	Los Manantiales
Producer	Ronald Pivaral
Species	Arabica
Varieties	Geisha
Process	Honey

TO CONTINUE READING, VISIT