

YELLOW BOB O LINK

 Brazil • Mogiana

ABOUT THIS COFFEE

The Bob O Link is an endangered migratory bird endemic to Brazil. Every year, it migrates between the USA and Brazil, but is now endangered. FAF and the Croce family are our privileged partners in Brazil. We continue to be impressed by their work to promote more sustainable agriculture in a country where intensive farming and monoculture are the norm.

The Bob O Link is an endangered migratory bird endemic to Brazil. Every year, it migrates between the USA and Brazil, but is now endangered. The idea behind FAF's Bob O Link project? To help it regain all the resources it needs. Bob O Link aims for all-round coffee quality: environmental, social and in the cup. Among the projects initiated by FAF and extended to the fifty or so partner farms in this project: reforestation, mixed farming, training and an overall change in life. Bob O Link places coffee growing at the centre of a life project, a new vision that creates value for producers.

Species	Arabica
Varieties	Red bourbon
Process	Natural
Drying	Drying beds
Harvest	June - September
Type of harvest	Manual

TO CONTINUE READING, VISIT

