

ABOUT THIS COFFEE

In the Federacion de Campesinos del Cauca, coffee is not only an exceptional beverage, but also a symbol of peace and resistance against violence and illicit crops. This specialty coffee is grown in an atmosphere of hope and determination, where saying "no" to war and illicit crops is a statement of principle.

The farms, rooted in a history of struggle for peace, have chosen to produce the Caturra, Colombia, Typica and Castillo varieties, mainly because of their ability to thrive in harmony with nature, adaptability to the area, their excellent development in optimal conditions and their expression in the cup demonstrate a chocolate, panela sweet profile, Aromatic, jasmine flower and yellow fruits in fragrance and aroma, a sweet fruity citrus flavor, citrus residual, medium high citrus acids and silky body that gives us a balanced cup.

The association, with over 53 years of history, began as a syndicate aiming to return land to the campesinos.
