SANTA MARIA FARM

"Our coffee is truly special because that's how people feel when they taste it. It is the consumers themselves who give it this recognition and turn it into something extraordinary. Between each harvest, we nurture the farm with great care, carrying out tailored renewal practices in every plot to ensure healthy and consistent production. This year was unique—although yields from the lots destined for our Blend were lower, each of the four harvest passes was carried out with patience and dedication, making sure every single bean was carefully tended."
