JEBENA GUJI

This coffee, known as Guji, is collected from small farmers in southern Ethiopia. It is placed on the international market by the Ethiopian Commodity Exchange (ECX) in Addis Ababa.

The birthplace of coffee, Guji offers varieties with internationally recognized qualities. This region boasts a rich natural environment and incredible biodiversity.

Coffee is traditionally grown here in forest and semi-forest, in association with species of shade trees that ensure slow ripening of the cherries and high-quality coffee.
