"The plan to create a coffee label called Fuerza de Mujer emerged from the commitment and vision of our coffee producers' association in San Martín Jilotepeque. As hardworking women passionate about coffee farming, we felt the need to highlight our efforts, our identity, and the quality of our product. Fuerza de Mujer not only represents single-origin coffee, but also the value of collective work, the fight for female empowerment in the fields, and the desire to open new opportunities for our families and our community. This label was born from the shared dream of leaving a mark on every cup.
