ABOUT THIS COFFEE

This coffee is produced by Bryan Bautista, a third-generation producer in Marcala, La Paz department, Honduras. Coming from a family dedicated to coffee cultivation for several decades, he took over the family farm after his university studies. The production originates from Finca Adolfo's, located in the community of Musula, at 1,640 meters above sea level, in the heart of Marcala's terroir. The farm boasts a history of approximately 50 years in coffee production.

This 512H lot is of the Bourbon variety and is processed naturally. Bryan masters several processing methods on the farm (washed, honey, and natural) which he adapts according to the lots.

The finca spans 38 productive manzanas (approximately 26 hectares) and includes 1 manzana of protected forest, preserving a natural source of clear water, maintained as a natural reserve.
