

ABOUT THIS COFFEE

This project is made up of 203 producers who are members of COMSA (Organic Coffee from Marcala S.A de C.V.) who are distributed in the municipalities of Santa Elena, Marcala, San José, Santa María, Santiago Puringla, Santa Ana and Santa María in the department of La Paz, Ajuterique and el Zarsal in the department of Comayagua and La Esperanza in the department of Intibucá. The project is made up of 155 men (76%) and 48 women (24%). This coffee comes only from women's coffee.

All the producers that make up Alegría coffee know that they must contribute to establishing a favorable and stable microclimate for planting, biomass production and increasing sinks to generate life in the soil by increasing the microbiology where the coffee crop is established, contributing positively to mitigating the environmental impact of Montecillos mountain range under continuous training on regenerative and organic agriculture.

All agricultural practices carried out on each farm have a focus on environmental responsibility, establishment and maintenance of forestry systems and crop diversification.

Producer	COMSA
Species	Arabica
Varieties	Red bourbon, H1, Icatu, Parainema
Process	Washed
Drying	22 days patios
Altitude	976 - 1865
Harvest	December - March
Type of harvest	Manual

