ABOUT THIS COFFEE

Who they are: A two-partner farm established in 1997 in Santa Clara, Renacimiento — one of Panama's most recognized coffee-producing zones, surrounded by mountains, water sources, and wild fauna, near the La Amistad International Park. Since its founding, Finca Santa Teresa has received multiple recognitions for production quality and has consistently aimed at the most demanding specialty markets.

What makes them singular:

- * Nearly 30 years of continuous production in one of Panama's most prestigious coffee regions, with international recognition since 1997.
- * A farm in active regeneration: deliberate soil rest, reduced chemical use, shade tree planting, and organic matter reincorporation — a long-term investment in quality.
- * Strong social commitment: housing and dignified working conditions for their mainly indigenous workforce, with training on new tools and equipment.
