

BOB O LINK – SERRA DO CARACOL

 Brazil • Sul de Minas • Serra do Caracol

ABOUT THIS COFFEE

Our partnership with FAF (Fazenda Ambiental Fortaleza) and Croce Family goes back several years. The project carried out by FAF in Brazil give a new image and a positive impact on production in a country where intensive agriculture and monoculture are the norm.

BOB O LINK, another face of Brazil:

Firstly, this funny name is a name of an endemic migratory bird of Brazil, endangered. It migrates every year between the USA and Brazil but unfortunately no longer finds the food resources necessary for its period of migration because of intensive monoculture. This bird is above all a symbol.

The BOB O LINK project is an integral quality, whether at the environmental, social or cup quality level.

Species	Arabica
Varieties	Red catuai
Process	Honey
Drying	Patios
Altitude	1000 - 1400
Harvest	May - June
Type of harvest	Manual

TO CONTINUE READING, VISIT

