ABOUT THIS COFFEE

Discover black tea from the coffee leaves of Las Terrazas del Pisque, a farm as unique as its owner!

Las Terrazas del Pisque is a farm in the middle of the desert, a complete ecosystem created from scratch in the middle of an arid desert zone.

This farm is the work of Arnaud Causse, whom you may know from Belco as Director of Transition. But Arnaud is also a singular producer, with a background as an agricultural engineer and many years of experience in the 4 corners of the world.

After being harvested during the rainy season, the coffee leaves are rolled by hand to encourage oxidation. They are then fermented in an anaerobic environment for around 2 hours, before being dehydrated.
